Kazakh leader Kassym-Jomart Tokayev highlighted the successful outcomes of todays talks with his Tajik counterpart Emomali Rahmon, which, according to him, reaffirmed both sides firm commitment to steadily strengthening multifaceted cooperation, Qazinform News Agency cites Akorda.

In an atmosphere of mutual trust and respect, we discussed a wide range of issues and outlined the main priorities for cooperation between our countries. We gave foremost attention to expanding trade and economic ties. Thanks to our joint efforts, bilateral trade is steadily approaching 2 billion US dollars. This places Kazakhstan among Tajikistans three largest foreign trading partners. The esteemed President Emomali Rahmon and I agreed to take the necessary steps to further increase bilateral trade. To achieve this goal, we adopted a Roadmap for Increasing Trade through 2030 today. The governments have been instructed to ensure its effective implementation, Kassym-Jomart Tokayev said.
